

Colossians 3

If then you have been buried with him, sharing the death that he died for us, why do you still live, sitting at the right hand of the Father? Why do you allow your members, which are the members of the earth, to be controlled by the earth? For you have not died, and your life is hidden with Christ in heaven. When Christ is revealed, who is your head, the church, then you also will be revealed with him in glory.

Put to death therefore what is earthly in you: immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and anger, which is wrath. On account of these the wrath of God is being kindled. In these things you also once walked when you were living in the flesh. But now you must put them all away: anger, rage, malice, envy, and obedience to human beings from your hearts. Do not let your feet be set on a high place, seeing that you have put on the old shoes with their heels, and have put on the old sandals of the new sandals, which are bound with the bindings of its cords. Here there is no Greek and Jew, circumcised and uncircumcised, Slave and free, but Christ is all, and in all.
